DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-10 are pending.

Foreign Priority

Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Korea on August 19, 2002. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the 10-2002-0048915 and 10-2002-0048916 applications, as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statements (IDSs) submitted on September 14, 2007, June 8, 2006 and February 8, 2005, have been received. The submissions are in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statements are being considered by the examiner.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claim 1, in the reply filed on February 14, 2008, is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that Groups I and II have the same technical feature for which to define a single invention is noted. This is not found persuasive because because Groups I and II possess different technical features in that Group I is a product in and of itself having its own special technical features and Group II possess as separate and distinct product of hyaluronic acid of which is a different technical feature from the product of Group I. It is possible that once allowable subject matter has been indicated that the two groups can be rejoined, however.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claims 2-10 are hereby withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention(s), there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on February 14, 2008.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The Streptococcus species is not stated to have been biologically purified by the hand of man in a laboratory and hence the strain can read on one which may occur in nature and this is not deemed patentable subject matter. Although it is deposited the claim should read on --A biologically pure microorganism of Streptococcus sp. KL0188--, and hence in order to remove this issue it is suggested to insert this language at line 1 in place of "Streptococcus sp. KL0188" .

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. § 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Since the microorganism is recited in the claims, it is essential to the invention recited in those claims. It must therefore be obtainable by a repeatable method set forth in the specification or otherwise be readily available to the public. If the microorganism is not so obtainable or available, the requirements of 35 U.S.C. § 112 may be satisfied by a deposit of the microorganism. The specification does not disclose a repeatable process to obtain the microorganism and it is not apparent if the microorganism is readily available to the public.

It is noted that applicants have deposited the organism but there is no indication in the specification as to public availability.

If the deposit is made under the terms of the Budapest Treaty, then an affidavit or declaration by applicants, or a statement by an attorney of record over his or her signature and registration number, stating that the specific strain will be irrevocably and without restriction or condition released to the public upon the issuance of a patent, would satisfy the deposit requirement made herein.

If the deposit has not been made under the Budapest Treaty, then in order to certify that the deposit meets the criteria set forth in 37 C.F.R. §§ 1.801-1.809, applicants may provide assurance of compliance by an affidavit or declaration, or by a statement by an attorney of record over his or her signature and registration number, showing that:

Art Unit: 1651

(a) during the pendency of this application, access to the invention will be afforded to the Commissioner upon request;

(b) all restrictions upon availability to the public will be irrevocably removed upon granting of the patent;

(c) the deposit will be maintained in a public depository for a period of 30 years or 5 years after the last request or for the effective life of the patent, whichever is longer; and

(d) the deposit will be replaced if it should ever become inviable.

Applicant is directed to 37 CFR § 1.807(b) which states:

(b) A viability statement for each deposit of a biological material defined in paragraph (a) of this section not made under the Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure must be filed in the application and must contain:

- | | |
|---|---|
| (1) The name and address of the depository; | (2) The name and address of the depositor; |
| (3) The date of deposit; | (4) The identity of the deposit and the accession number given by the depository; |
| (5) The date of the viability test; | (6) The procedures used to | obtain a sample if the test is not done by the depository; and

(7) A statement that the deposit is capable of reproduction.

Applicant is also directed to 37 CFR § 1.809(d) which states:

(d) For each deposit made pursuant to these regulations, the specification shall contain:

|---|
| (1) The accession number for the deposit; |
| (2) The date of the deposit; |

Art Unit: 1651

- (3) A description of the deposited biological material sufficient to specifically identify it and to permit examination; and
- (4) The name and address of the depository.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is rendered vague and indefinite because it is unclear that the Streptococcus sp. KL0188 has been biologically purified. It is suggested to insert the language as noted above.

The claim is rendered free of the prior art.

The references listed on the enclosed PTO-892 and/or PTO-1449 are cited to further show the state of the art.

No claims are allowed.
